

VOLUME 2019-1(1) AUTHORS

Loreta Andziulienė orcid.org/0000-0002-9584-4550: LITHUANIA, Vytautas Magnus University, Education Academy; currently a lecturer and PhD student at Education Academy of Vytautas Magnus University, Lithuania and a PhD student at Tartu University, Estonia, with an interest in education, teacher training, ELT methodology, and CLIL. loreat.andziuliene@vdu.lt

Zenta Anspoka orcid.org/0000-0002-5431-9602: LATVIA, Doctor in Pedagogy science, professor at the University of Latvia, senior researcher, expert in Education at the Council of Sciences of the Republic of Latvia. Scientific interests: general didactic, language learning and teaching methodology for preschool and school, bilingual education. Author of monographs, more than 100 scientific articles, more than 50 methodological and teaching books, member of international and local projects. zenta.anspoka@lu.lv

Elisa Bitterlich orcid.org/0000-0003-4175-5189: GERMANY, Technische Universität Dresden; a doctoral student works as scientific assistant at the professorial chair for Primary Education/Mathematics at the Technische Universität Dresden, Germany, since 2016. Besides teacher students' collective orientations about the learners' heterogeneity and the dealing with (linguistic) heterogeneity, her research interest areas include interpretative classroom research, mathematical learning and the language of the learners during different situations of the mathematics classroom (especially the use of narrations and contexts). She is also involved in the project „TUD-Sylber” which is part of the ‘Qualitätsoffensive Lehrerbildung’, a joint initiative of the Federal Government and the federal states of Germany which aims to improve the quality of teacher training. elisa.bitterlich@tu-dresden.de

Dragana Božić Lenard orcid.org/0000-0003-4479-1329: CROATIA, Josip Juraj Strossmayer University of Osijek, Faculty of Electrical Engineering, Computer Science and Information Technology Osijek, Department of Core Courses. She obtained her PhD in Linguistics and MA in the English language and literature and the Croatian language and literature from the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences in Osijek. She works as a postdoctoral research fellow at the Faculty of Electrical Engineering, Computer Science and Information Technology Osijek, Josip Juraj Strossmayer University of Osijek, Croatia, where she teaches English for Specific Purposes courses. Her research interests include ESP, sociolinguistics and computational linguistics. She is a member of the editorial board of The Journal of Teaching English for Specific and Academic Purposes published by the Faculty of Electronic Engineering, University of Niš, Serbia, a member of the advisory board for the Cambridge Scholars Publishing, a member of the Scientific Committee of International English for Specific Purposes Teachers' Association (IESPTA) and a strand coordinator for ERL Journal, to name a few. dragana.bozic@ferit.hr

Anna Dąbrowska orcid.org/0000-0002-5192-2684: POLAND, University of Warsaw, Faculty of Education. Primary research interests: adolescent literacy, linguistic worldview, linguistic competence, communicative competence, adolescent literacy, adolescent slang, sociolinguistics Representative publication title: (II) literacy in Youth as an Obstacle to Living a Valuable Life, The Cultural Activity of Youth and Their Linguistic Worldview, Cultural Factors in Youth Literacy, Adolescents and self-improvement – in light of young readers' letters to the editor in youth magazines, Is Slang Cool? Educational Aspects of the Presence of Students Slang in Public Discourse, Youth Slang as a Community-Building Element in School Communication, The Equal and the More Equal. Communicative Competence and Educational Paradoxes, On the Expansion of Adolescent Language as Illustrated by Advertising Messages, Communication Styles of Girls and Boys. adabrowska@pedagog.uw.edu.pl

Inese Eglite orcid.org/0000-0003-4906-3400: LATVIA, Mg. paed., PhD student, lecturer at the University of Latvia, Latvian as a second language teacher. Research interests: bilingual education, language learning and teaching methodology for preschool. inese.eglite@lu.lv

Martyna Jaskulska orcid.org/0000-0001-8950-785X: POLAND, University of Gdańsk, Faculty of Languages; a teacher of English in Derdowski High School in Kartuzy. My scientific interests include: dyslexia, cognitive linguistics, psycholinguistics, sociolinguistics. Recently I have worked on difficulties of Polish students with dyslexia in learning English as a foreign language. mal.jaskulska@gmail.com

Valéria Juhász orcid.org/0000-0001-7925-4393: HUNGARY, University of Szeged, Juhász Gyula Faculty of Education, Head of the Department of Hungarian Language and Applied Linguistics, my main research fields are early literacy, teaching reading and writing focusing on dyslectic learners, teaching foreign languages to children with special needs. I am also interested in teaching listening and reading comprehension, strategies of comprehension, and teaching vocabulary in content areas. juhaszvaleria@jgypk.szte.hu

Abdel-Hakeem Kasem orcid.org/0000-0001-8742-5818: AUSTRALIA, Deakin University, Melbourne, Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Arts and Education; the Convenor of Arabic Language Program at Deakin University. Hakeem's teaching has received plaudits at Deakin, and via national and international commendation. His work – especially in the development of world first-class comprehensive Arabic online resources in 2006 – is widely known in the Arabic teaching community at a national and international level. In 2009, the Australian Learning and Teaching Council awarded him a National Teaching Excellence Award in the Humanities and the Arts category, for pioneering this Arabic program that led to innovative and creative approaches to teaching foreign languages at tertiary level in Australia. Hakeem's research interest involve Arabic language and culture studies, blended learning, e-learning, and cross-cultural communication. He has contributed to numerous national and international conferences and published widely in national and international publications. hakeem.kasem@deakin.edu.au

Elena Kovacikova orcid.org/0000-0002-3302-7141: SLOVAKIA, Constantine the Philosopher University, Faculty of Education, Department of Language Pedagogy and Intercultural Communication. The projects she is currently involved in: APVV-15-0368 -Practice in Centre of the Subject Field Didactics, Subject Field Didactics in the Centre of Preparation for Practice KEGA 006UKF-4/2017 Contrastive Analysis as Effective Supportive Method in Teaching English Pronunciation at Primary Schools. ekovacikova@ukf.sk

Konstantinos Lavidas orcid.org/0000-0003-2225-1137: GREECE, University of Patras; Research and Laboratory Teaching Staff member, Department of Educational Sciences & Early Childhood Education at the University of Patras Greece. His research interests: ICT in Education, Statistics and Educational Research. He has published many articles about education and particularly about new teaching approaches with ICT. lavidas@upatras.gr

Linda Lin orcid.org/0000-0002-1011-3944: HONG KONG, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University; she holds a PhD in Applied Linguistics. Her research interests include syntactical analysis, academic writing and vocabulary studies. She is currently working with Stanford University to develop an AWE (Automated Writing Evaluation) platform to assist Chinese learners of English to effectively identify common language errors in their writing. eclindal@polyu.edu.hk

Anna Lyngfelt orcid.org/0000-0003-3048-5603: SWEDEN, University of Gothenburg; Assistant Professor at the department of pedagogical, curricular and professional studies. She is now working with a project about the development of literacy by the use of fiction in multilingual classrooms. Also, she is doing research about how to make use of multimodal text production to develop literacy, and reading comprehension in relation to aspects of democracy. anna.lyngfelt@gu.se

Marta Łockiewicz orcid.org/0000-0002-7461-8503: POLAND, University of Poland, Institute of Psychology; an assistant professor at Division of Psychology and Psychopathology of Development; her scientific interests include: dyslexia, school failures prevention, psycholinguistics, bilingualism. Currently,

She studies Polish students with dyslexia difficulties in learning English as a foreign language, and teaches English as a foreign language; a member of Polish Dyslexia Association. marta.lockiewicz@ug.edu.pl

Tess Maginess orcid.org/0000-0002-5078-8997: NORTHERN IRELAND, Queen's University, Belfast. Director of the Open Learning continuing Education Programme, School of Social Sciences, Education and Social Work. Her home discipline is literature. Her research encompasses adult education, older people's learning, innovative pedagogies with non-traditional learners, arts based education and research and literature. t.maginess@qub.ac.uk

Sladana Marić orcid.org/0000-0002-9270-7016: SERBIA, University of Novi Sad, Faculty of Philosophy; PhD in Teaching Methodology; an educator, researcher, conference speaker, and prolific author. After graduating in Music Pedagogy at the Academy of Arts of the University of Novi Sad and in English Language Philology at "The Faculty of Legal and Business Studies Lazar Vrkatic, PhD" in Novi Sad, Sladana completed her MA in Gender Studies and MA in Management in Education (ACIMSI, University of Novi Sad). In 2018 she started working as a Research Assistant at the Faculty of Philosophy within the project titled "Digital Media Technologies and Socio-educational Changes" (III47020) funded by The Ministry of Education, Science and Technological Development of the Republic of Serbia. In 2019, defending her doctoral dissertation titled "Interactive Learning of Music and English Language with Digital Media" she completed her doctoral studies in Teaching Methodology at the Faculty of Philosophy of University of Novi Sad. Her research interests lie in the areas of the educational role of language, digital pedagogies, media literacies and their role in digital learning and teaching. Sladana has published internationally and regularly gives talks at international conferences, presenting her work at online conferences and face to face events in Greece, Serbia, Cyprus, Poland and Malta. sladjana.maric@ff.uns.ac.rs

Kludia Pavlikova: SLOVAKIA, PhD student at the Faculty of Education, Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra. She teaches English as a foreign language to teenagers to adults, in groups or individually, at a local language school. She aims at finding the most suitable ways to prepare her learners for the successful use of language. kludia.pavlikova@ukf.sk

Nektarios Stellakis orcid.org/0000-0002-1934-8715: GREECE, University of Patras; Assistant Professor at the Department of Educational Science and Early Childhood Education, University of Patras, Greece. His research and teaching areas are: literacy and early literacy; literacy practices in pre-school education, and family literacy. The period 2013-2018 he was Regional Vice-President for Europe at the World Organization for Early Childhood Education (OMEPE). nekstel@upatras.gr

Gemma Tarpey-Brown orcid.org/0000-0003-4962-5290: AUSTRALIA, Deakin University, Melbourne, Faculty of Arts and Education; an early career researcher. She has recently graduated from the Faculty of Arts and Education at Deakin University majoring in Arabic and Literature with First Class Honours. Gemma was the recipient of the Global Citizenship Award from Deakin University in 2017. Her research interests are in Arabic cultural studies and the complex relationship between language shift and language maintenance, identity and power. Gemma is currently working for the Australian Red Cross. gemma@tarpey.com

Chrysoula Tsirmpa orcid.org/0000-0002-0610-2425: GREECE, University of Patras; a kindergarten teacher and a PhD student at the Department of Educational Science and Early Childhood Education, University of Patras, Greece. Her research focuses on family literacy and especially on parents' beliefs and practices about literacy. tsirmpa.chrysoula@hotmail.com

Daiva Verikaitė-Gaigalienė orcid.org/0000-0003-4724-3723: LITHUANIA, Vytautas Magnus University, a PhD in Linguistics, an Associate Professor of Language Education Programme Group at Education Academy of Vytautas Magnus University, Lithuania, with an interest in discourse analysis, linguistic pragmatics, ELT methodology, and CLIL. daiva.verikaite-gaigaliene@vdu.lt