

2023-2(10) Authors

Krastanka Bozhinova orcid.org/0000-0001-6186-3668: BULGARIA, American University in Bulgaria, Department of Modern Languages and Arts. She holds a PhD in Language Sciences from the University of Nantes (France) and is an Associate Professor of French Language, Literature, and Culture. Her research focuses on multilingual education, the integration of digital tools in language teaching and learning, writing in French as an additional language, French for European and international relations, and applied phraseology and terminology. kbozhinova@aubg.edu

Gisi Cannizzaro orcid.org/0009-0001-3454-5119: NETHERLANDS, Heritage Language Education (HLE) Network. Gisi is the Managing Director and founder of HLE Network, a charitable non-profit organization that connects and supports heritage language educators. She has an academic background in experimental and theoretical psycholinguistics and child language acquisition (PhD from the University of Groningen, 2012) and a professional background as educational advisor to families with children who are internationally mobile during (pre-)primary and secondary school. Gisi's current activities include developing professional development and networking opportunities for heritage language educators, public outreach, and advocacy work. hlenet.org@gmail.com

Katarína Devečková orcid.org/0009-0001-1408-9136: SLOVAKIA, Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra, Faculty of Education. Katarina is a second-year Ph.D. student in the Department of English Language and Culture, with a primary focus on exploring the effective integration of literature into extensive reading programs within EFL classes. Concurrently, she contributes to the academic environment by working at the University Library in Bratislava, where her responsibilities involve conducting research related to periodicals. This dual commitment allows her to synergize theoretical insights from her academic pursuits with practical experiences gained in the dynamic setting of the University Library. Through her academic journey, she aims to bridge the gap between research and application in the realm of literature education. katarina.deveckova@ukf.sk

Georgi Dimitrov orcid.org/0000-0002-6336-7403: Bulgaria, University of National and World Economy, Faculty of International Economics and Politics. Georgi is a Senior Lecturer at the Department of Foreign Languages and Applied Linguistics. He has a PhD in phonetics and phonology. His key interests are phonetics and historical linguistics. gmdimitrov89@gmail.com

Renata Emilsson Peskova orcid.org/0000-0001-5618-5030: ICELAND, University of Iceland, School of Education. She is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Education and Pedagogy. Renata works in the field of educational linguistics and her research interests include plurilingualism and multilingualism, linguistically responsive and plurilingual pedagogies, language policies, heritage language education, and linguistic identities. Renata's current research project Plurilingual Pedagogies for Diverse Classrooms explores how students and teachers can build on their linguistic repertoires to enhance their learning and teaching. renata@hi.is

Adrienn Fekete orcid.org/0000-0003-1805-2426: HUNGARY, University of Pécs, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, Institute of English Studies. Dr. Fekete is an assistant professor at the University of Pécs and holds a PhD degree in English Applied Linguistics and Teaching TESOL/TEFL. Her research interests include linguistic and cultural identity construction in SLA, the language learner's individual differences, and the study of complex dynamic systems theory in SLA and education. Her courses focus on teaching methodology, intercultural communication, individual differences in SLA, research methodology, educational drama, and translation studies. fekete.adrienn@pte.hu

Sona Grofcikova orcid.org/0000-0002-0264-4825: SLOVAKIA, Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra, Faculty of Education, Department of Education. Sona is an Assistant Professor whose interests are pedagogy, general didactics, theory of instruction, theory of education, preschool and elementary education. She is Involved in projects: Playing-2-gether: Teacher sensitivity as a basis for inclusion in preschool (Erasmus+ KA2 project); Development of a Diagnostic Tool to Assess the Level of Phonemic Awareness of Children in Preschool Age (National project); Individual Conception and Strategy of Education Within the Context of Teacher's Professional Development (National project). sgrofcikova@ukf.sk

Abha Gupta orcid.org/0000-0002-1863-359X: USA, Old Dominion University, Professor. Abha Gupta is a Language and Literacy Education Professor at the Department of Teaching and Learning, Old Dominion University, USA. She works at the graduate program for reading education. Her research focuses on promoting literacy, particularly in culturally diverse settings. Her work has been published in top journals and she has co-edited two books on educational issues. She was a visiting scholar at Stanford University. She has received over $1M in grants for research and service, and presented at national and international conferences. agupta@odu.edu

Nejla Kalajdzisalihović orcid.org/0000-0002-9743-8759: BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA, University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy. Nejla is an Associate Professor at the University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Philosophy, Department of English Language and Literature (Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina). She has published (as an author or a co-author) more than 20 papers in different local and international journals and 2 books (Primjena lingvističkih znanja u atribuciji i usporedbi autorstva: prilog teoriji i praksi (2021) and English in Aviation – A Content and Language Integrated Approach with Aneta Naumoska (2022)). She has also translated Bosnian Cuisine (2016) and dozens of other articles and domain-specific chapters, among which it is important to mention the chapter about Sarajevo in Slavic Capitals in 2D: History of Slavic Capitals Through the Archival Materials, Ljubljana, Forum of Slavic Cultures published in 2013. So far, she has attended 17 conferences in Bosnia-Herzegovina and abroad. Until 2023, she has participated in three Erasmus + mobilities (Matej Bel University in Banska Bystrica, University of Warsaw in Warsaw, University of Macedonia in Thessaloniki). In 2022, she visited the University of Southampton (UK) and the Hartley Library. She has given her contributions as a reviewer to the following journals: Radovi Filozofskog fakulteta, University of Sarajevo, Pregled, University of Sarajevo, Croatica et Slavica Iadertina, University of Zadar, DHS- Društvene i humanističke studije, University of Tuzla, Epiphany - Journal of Transdisciplinary Studies, International University of Sarajevo. She participated in projects coordinated by ECML (Graz, Austria), TPO Foundation and UNICEF. She is also a member of The Society for the Advancement of Applied Linguistics in Bosnia and Herzegovina (SAALinBiH) and the Society for the Study of English in Bosnia and Herzegovina. From 2015, she has been a member of the International Conference on English Language, Literature, Teaching and Translation Studies (CELLTTS) Organizing Committee. nejla.kalajdzisalihovic@gmail.com

Małgorzata Karczewska orcid.org/0000-0002-3265-6042: POLAND, University of Zielona Góra, Faculty of Humanities. She is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Modern Languages. She got her PhD in Linguistics (2013) from Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Her key interests are language contacts, loanwords, humor, contrastive phraseology (Polish, English, Italian), teaching English as a global language. She is the author of over 30 publications including a book and more than twenty articles in Polish and foreign journals. She has been the co-organizer of Foreign Languages Days since 2015. M.Karczewska@in.uz.zgora.pl

Helena Liwo orcid.org/0000-0003-0192-737X: POLAND, Ateneum Academy in Gdańsk, Faculty of Educational Studies. She has a PhD of social sciences in the field of pedagogy and works as an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Educational Studies at Ateneum Academy in Gdańsk. Her research interests focus on issues of language communication and its disorders, as well as the situation of people with disabilities in the context of social discourse. She is a specialist in surdologopaedics and actively engages in speech disorder therapy at the PZG (Polish Deaf Association) Specialist Centre for Diagnosis and Therapy of Children and Teenagers with Hearing Loss in Gdańsk. helenaliwo@gmail.com

Ahmed Mehdaoui orcid.org/0000-0002-2239-6048: ALGERIA, Department of English, Ibn Khaldoun University of Tiaret. Ahmed Mehdaoui is a Senior Lecturer of literature at the English Department, Ibn Khaldoun University of Tiaret, Algeria. He works mainly within the framework of intercultural communication. During recent years, he has become interested in discourse studies. He is a member of some international journals. He is the author of a number of articles about language and culture, intercultural communication, literature teaching, English teaching and learning. academicitiaret@gmail.com

Małgorzata Pilecka orcid.org/0000-0002-4815-2949: POLAND, Ateneum Academy in Gdańsk, the Department of Educational Studies. Małgorzata is an Assistant Professor working as an early education teacher and a teachers' educator. She is an author of publications in the field of pedagogy, including a monograph entitled Teachers' concepts of children's group work in primary grades (published in 2020, Toruń: Adam Marszałek). Her research interests focus on constructivist teaching/learning methods, cultural offer for children, the role of communication in the educational process, as well as on selected issues from the area of andragogy. m.pilecka@ateneum.edu.pl

Solzica Popovska orcid.org/0000-0003-0249-4393: NORTH MACEDONIA, Ss. Cyril and Methodius University – Skopje, North Macedonia, Faculty of Philology “Blaze Koneski“. She works at the Department of Translation and Interpreting as a Full Professor. She holds an M.A. degree in translation studies and a Ph.D. degree in Medieval Literature. Her key interests involve translation and interpreting, Anglophonic cultures, English for specific purposes, emotional intelligence in higher education and other humanistic approaches in EFL teaching. Her key projects involve Possibilities for Fostering Emotional Intelligence as a Generic Competence for Translation and Interpreting Students (2016-2018) in cooperation with Karl Franzens Universität - Graz, Austria, Modernization of Teaching Methods and Techniques for Terminology Courses at Interdisciplinary Translation and Interpreting Studies (2020-2021) supported by UKIM, Psychosocial support in the Language classroom (March–June 2021) supported by the Faculty of Philology “Blaze Koneski“ – Skopje. solzica_popovska@ff.ukim.edu.mk

Milena Sazdovska Pigulovska orcid.org/0000-0001-9227-4815: NORTH MACEDONIA, Ss. Cyril and Methodius University – Skopje, North Macedonia, Faculty of Philology “Blaze Koneski“. She works at the Department of Translation and Interpreting as Associate Professor. She holds a Ph.D. degree in Translatology. Her key interests involve translation and interpreting, contrastive linguistics, terminology, English for specific purposes, emotional intelligence for translators and interpreters, translation tools, and experiential learning. Her key projects involve Possibilities for Fostering Emotional Intelligence as a Generic Competence for Translation and Interpreting Students (2016-2018) in cooperation with Karl Franzens Universität - Graz, Austria, Modernization of Teaching Methods and Techniques for Terminology Courses at Interdisciplinary Translation and Interpreting Studies (2020-2021) supported by UKIM. milena.sazdovska@ff.ukim.edu.mk

Ewa Tichoniuk-Wawrowicz orcid.org/0000-0003-0844-4880: POLAND, University of Zielona Góra, Faculty of Humanities. Ewa is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Modern Languages. She got her PhD in Literary Studies (2006) at the University of Silesia in Katowice. Her key interests are nonfiction literature (with particular emphasis on Primo Levi's and Oriana Fallaci's work), emotions, correspondence of the arts, Italian pop/rock music history. She is the author of over 50 publications including a book (L'universo labirintico nella narrativa di Primo Levi, 2012) and more than 40 articles in Polish and foreign journals, and in multi-author volumes. She has been the co-organizer of Foreign Languages Days since 2015. e.tichoniuk-wawrowicz@wh.uz.zgora.pl

Jana Trníková orcid.org/0000-0002-9645-4415: SLOVAKIA, Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra, Faculty of Education. Department of Education. Jana Trníková works as an Assistant Professor whose key interests are didactics, preschool and elementary education and innovations in education. She is involved in projects Neuropedagogy and Neurodidactics, as an innovative approach to teaching process, Improvement of Future Teachers' and Employments' Practice in Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra, and the Development of Cognitive Competences of Children in Conditions of Nursery School through Physical Experiment. jtrnikova@ukf.sk